HOSPITALES
PERMITIRÁ REALIZAR MÁS DE 24.000 EXPLORACIONES AL AÑO

El Hospital HM Delfos incorpora un TAC con funciones de reconstrucción ultrarrápida en 3D

-- BARCELONA 5 NOV. 2018 - 2:02 PM

El grupo sanitario HM Hospitales ha comunicado que el Hospital HM Delfos de Barcelona incorpora un nuevo TAC de 160 coronas, que obtiene imágenes de alta calidad en un tiempo muy reducido y permitirá atender a más de 24.000 exploraciones al año, así como una reconstrucción ultrarrápida con funciones en 3D.

Los responsables del Servicio de Radiología del Hospital HM Delfos, los doctores Josep Vives y José María Argilés, explican que "se optimiza la dosis de radiación con algoritmos iterativos avanzados de reconstrucción y adquisición UltraHelical. Esto comporta que se reduzca la radiación a las necesidades de cada paciente y de cada prueba".
